The Tartine formula lists an 8 hour cool fermentation in the fridge but 18-20 hours seems to be the sweet spot for me as my bread takes on a complex flavor with this extended fermentation time. It also seems to help open up the crumb more than what you would typically see; I strive for that light and soft interior.

Tartine bread is sourdough bread. It's a slightly different kind of sourdough, because it is mild and creamy rather than tangy. This comes from the way the sourdough culture is used to create a levain which is carefully managed to produce that flavor. A lot of people prefer it to the tangier varieties of sourdough.
